

Medicaid, Medicare, Social Security, and SSI are Lifelines for Minnesota Residents with Disabilities

Lifelines for Minnesotans with Disabilities...

Medicaid, Medicare, Social Security, and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) are lifelines for Minnesotans with disabilities, including people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) and their families:

- Medicaid
 - Minnesota's Medicaid program enrolls over 1,104,000 people including over 140,000 non-elderly adults and children with disabilities.¹
 - Over 18,900 Minnesotans with I/DD receive Medicaid home and community-based (HCBS) services.²
- Medicare
 - Medicare enrolls over 837,000 Minnesotans, including over 131,000 people with disabilities.³
- Social Security
 - Social Security serves over 927,000 Minnesotans, including over 143,000 Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) beneficiaries, along with their spouses and dependent children.⁴
- SSI
 - SSI serves over 91,000 low-income seniors and people with disabilities in Minnesota.⁴

...that Boost the Minnesota Economy

Medicaid and Medicare bring federal dollars into Minnesota and help create jobs:

- Medicaid brought the state of Minnesota over $4.4 billion in federal dollars in 2012.⁵
- Medicare spending in Minnesota was over $6.8 billion in 2009.⁶

Social Security and SSI benefits are typically spent in-state and help boost the Minnesota economy:

- Social Security paid over $12.9 billion in benefits to Minnesotans in 2013, including over $1.9 billion in Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits.⁴
- SSI paid over $560 million in federal benefits to Minnesotans in 2013.⁴
