FACEBOOK

The Research and Training Center on Community Living at the University of Minnesota in collaboration with The Arc, is seeking caregivers to share their perceptions on a range of life-span issues impacting individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) and their families. We are inviting people aged 18 years or older who provide frequent primary paid/unpaid support to a person with an intellectual or developmental disability (I/DD) living in the United States or its territories to participate. To learn more and take the electronic on-line version of the survey, please click here {link to: thearc.org/FINDS}.
